

Business Plan for the Burkes Pass Heritage Trust

(Lists of projects and grants up-dated on 27/01/12)

- The Burkes Pass Heritage Trust is an incorporated charitable trust with 5 trustees, established in September 2000. The Patron is David Reynolds and the Trustees are currently; Liz Angelo-Roxborough, Ruth Waters, Max Willetts, John Corcoran and Jane Batchelor (Chair). The Treasurer and I.T. manager is Graham Batchelor.
- The activities of the Trust are specified in the Trust document.
- The Trust is supported by about 120 people, locally, NZ wide and overseas and produces a newsletter 3-4 times a year circulated to 120 by post and approximately 125 others including agencies such as Mackenzie District Council, NZ Historic Places Trust, and Opus International, by email.

Aims

- 1) To restore and maintain St Patricks Union Church at Burkes Pass for the use of the Burkes Pass community and the general public.
- 2) To preserve the function of the church building for services and ceremonies, a place for meetings of residents and others and as a venue for heritage displays, and cultural events such as music and art exhibitions.
- 3) To secure future protection of the church by a heritage covenant registered with The New Zealand Historic Places Trust on the title.
- 4) To provide access and to display a wide variety of Burkes Pass heritage for education and the enjoyment of the community. This heritage includes both Maori and European people and culture, buildings, our geographical and environmental features, and characteristic vegetation including local native plants and exotic historic plantings, and wildlife.
- 5) To promote public awareness of the original and priceless heritage remaining in Burkes Pass and to foster this through education, documentation e.g. via a brochure, web site, photo albums, display panels and other audiovisual aides, provision of activities such as walking tracks and visitor amenities.

Heritage Inventory

- 1) The major access to the Mackenzie Basin used by Maori and later on by Europeans.
- 2) Characteristic vegetation and wildlife reflects environmental factors and human activities over a long period of time. Large groups of mature conifer trees remain from pioneer times around the village area. A DOC scenic reserve is located just west of the geographical pass with characteristic tussock and Aciphylla (Spaniard or speargrass) vegetation. The Canterbury giant weevil, Hadramphus tuberculatus, was rediscovered there in 2005 after being thought to be extinct for the past 80 years.
- 3) The principal pioneer settlement for the Mackenzie country and early centre of administration with the building of the offices for the Mt Cook Road Board (the precursor of the Mackenzie District Council) in 1876. The township remains relatively unchanged since the early 1900's due to a quirk of history i.e. the railway from the coast reaching only as far as Fairlie instead of coming to Burkes Pass as initially planned.
- 4) St Patrick's Church c1872; the first church in the Mackenzie District and the first Union church in Canterbury and the oldest Union church still remaining on its original site in New Zealand. It is registered by the NZ Historic Places Trust as group 1 and category Y on the heritage schedule of MDC. The original church furniture and organs x2 remain.

- 5) The pioneer cemetery; many early settlers and mountaineers are buried here dating from 1873. The only remaining original gothic style wooden fence post is to be listed on the MDC heritage schedule. The sexton's (grave yard keeper) hut dating from the early days is still present and reasonably intact.
- 6) Burkes Pass Hotel and original stables, the first hotel license granted in South Canterbury c 1861, an intact wing remains despite a disastrous fire in 1996. The stables are still remaining and are listed on the MDC heritage schedule.
- 7) The first Mt Cook Road Board Office c 1876 and later the original Mackenzie District Council Chambers now called 'The Stone House'. Is listed on the MDC heritage schedule.
- 8) The first school building in the area (the original part of the building is listed on the MDC heritage schedule) and school -teachers cottage remain. Both are c. 1878.
- 9) 'Alma Cottage', 1870's (cob construction) has a NZ Historic Places Trust covenant on the title, NZHPT register group 2, MDC schedule Y.
- 10) 'Elm Tree' cottage (cob)
- 11) 'Annis' cottage, (cob ruin) is listed on the MDC heritage schedule.
- 12) 'Paddy's Market' homestead, an early colonial home.
- 13) Rabbit board buildings, a Mackenzie country institution, c1890-1988 at Burkes Pass.
- 14) One of the first dog trial clubs in Canterbury, marked by Dog Trial Hill.
- 15) Queen Victoria Diamond Jubilee Oak tree planted outside the hotel on June 23rd 1897.
- 16) Limestone horse trough is listed on the MDC heritage schedule.
- 17) Ice skating rink dating from 1940's, intact construction and water intake.
- 18) Early subdivision of planned the pioneer township with streets and sections mostly never developed.
- 19) 'Highfield' cob cottage and 'Dornie' cob villa, Kerr Cottage site, Coulson's cottage site and 'Rollesby' farm buildings outlying the village.
- 20) TD Burnett stone memorial at the top of the Pass
- 21) Donated archival material including written, photographic, Burkes Pass postal material and other memorabilia.
- 22) Musterer's Hut replica built from the disused bus shelter and incorporating recycled original hut materials eg metal chimney, and situated in village centre.
- 23) Paddy's (boundary keeper of Paddy's Market fame) Stone Hut remains – the base of the stone walls of 3 small buildings are still visible.

Assets - Property

St Patrick's Union church contents, building and grounds.
Musterer's Hut

Strategy

- To involve and consult with the local and wider community in implementing the Trust aims thereby enhancing the living amenities for residents and visitors by identifying and maximizing the assets and minimizing the negative aspects of the village.
- To stage changes as a series of projects with prioritization and funding sought for each from appropriate sources. Funding will preferably be confirmed before projects are started to minimize risk of debt.

SWOT's

Strengths

- Interest and support locally and New Zealand wide
- Voluntary labor force and skill base
- Intact and concentrated heritage elements
- Key role in early Mackenzie development
- Located on major tourist highway
- Charitable trust structure gives accountability, confidence and tax deductibility to donors
- Communication via newsletter, email, media and web site
- Church open to visitors daily and monitored by dedicated neighbour.

Weaknesses

- Major traffic flow poses potential noise and safety hazard (planned traffic calming for village centre).
- Small township poses potential hazard of isolated disenchantment (maintain good communication) and small pool of available voluntary labor and resources.
- Cash flow is dependant on application to funding agencies for major projects that means long lead in times for projects.

Opportunities

- Interest and awareness in heritage values.
- Active pursuits - walking tracks exploiting sites of interest and scenery, mountain bike/trail bike/horse riding trails. Two nearby ski-fields provide for complementary recreation.
- Passive pursuits – views of historic buildings, cultural activities in the church, family/historical research using cemetery and Trust resources.
- Development ideas for local businesses to assimilate heritage concept in design eg cafe is on the site of the old blacksmith's shop.
- Increase in patronage of local B&B accommodation and shop.
- Development of sophisticated but non- intrusive audiovisual aids could enhance visitor experience at the church.

Threats

- Local council funding is in short supply and several heritage organizations competing for it.
- Heritage walkway is on Transit land with their permission but theoretical vulnerability to future plans.

List of Significant Projects

This list does not mention routine events like regular work days for weeding, planting (other than establishment of a new area), annual Carol service at the Church, continuing projects such as Anniss/Highfield cottages (unless there is a significant new development), newsletters, web site additions and low key fundraising (such as Pass to Pub collections, and development of Burkes Pass related items for sale in the church) unless significant investment is involved.
